A photograph of a kitchen floor. The floor is covered in large, square, orange-colored tiles with white grout. In the center of the image, there is a white, ribbon-like banner with the word "Küche" written in black, sans-serif font. The banner has a slight shadow and appears to be floating above the tiles. In the bottom right corner, there is a small, white rectangular icon with a red horizontal bar inside it. The background behind the tiles is a grey and black patterned surface, possibly a rug or another part of the floor.
