A satellite-style map of the English Channel region. The landmasses are shown in shades of green, representing vegetation, with some brownish areas indicating urban or developed regions. The water of the English Channel is a deep blue. The map is oriented with North at the top. Three labels are overlaid on the map: 'England' in the upper left, 'Jersey' in the center, and 'France, Frankreich' in the lower right. The labels are in a simple, black, sans-serif font.
