Integration in current funding programmes, e.g. DFG

- Integration of qualified refugees in running DFG projects.
- Application via German research institution.
- A supplemental proposal can be geared towards any type of funding that enables refugees to be integrated in a project, in particular guest funds, staff positions and the Mercator module.
- Proposals may be submitted informally at any time and should not exceed five pages. The proposals must include information on the individuals to be incorporated in a project and justify the added value provided by their involvement.
- Refugee researchers can also be funded directly as part of Research Training Groups, Collaborative Research Centres and other DFG-funded joint projects (without additional application).
- The legal arrangements for the integration of refugee researchers are the responsibility of the project leaders and the HEIs or non-HEI research institutions (e.g., determining the individual's academic qualifications, checking the legal requirements relevant to the conclusion of scholarship or employment contracts).
